Why Partner with ERM?

Tailored programs, actionable insights

ERM's approach to audit is centered on the need for clear actionable insights that allow you to understand your risk profile and compliance position, and take prioritized action to improve performance. We tailor our programs for each client to ensure they are fit-for-purpose and build from what you already have in place – creating efficiency rather than duplication.

Better outcomes delivered

ERM brings global reach, deep subject matter expertise, and a pragmatic, business-focused approach to drive meaningful improvements in EHS performance. Our technical depth coupled with local understanding of cultural norms and compliance expectations, provide a trusted, independent view that supports decision-making and drives continuous improvement across your organization.

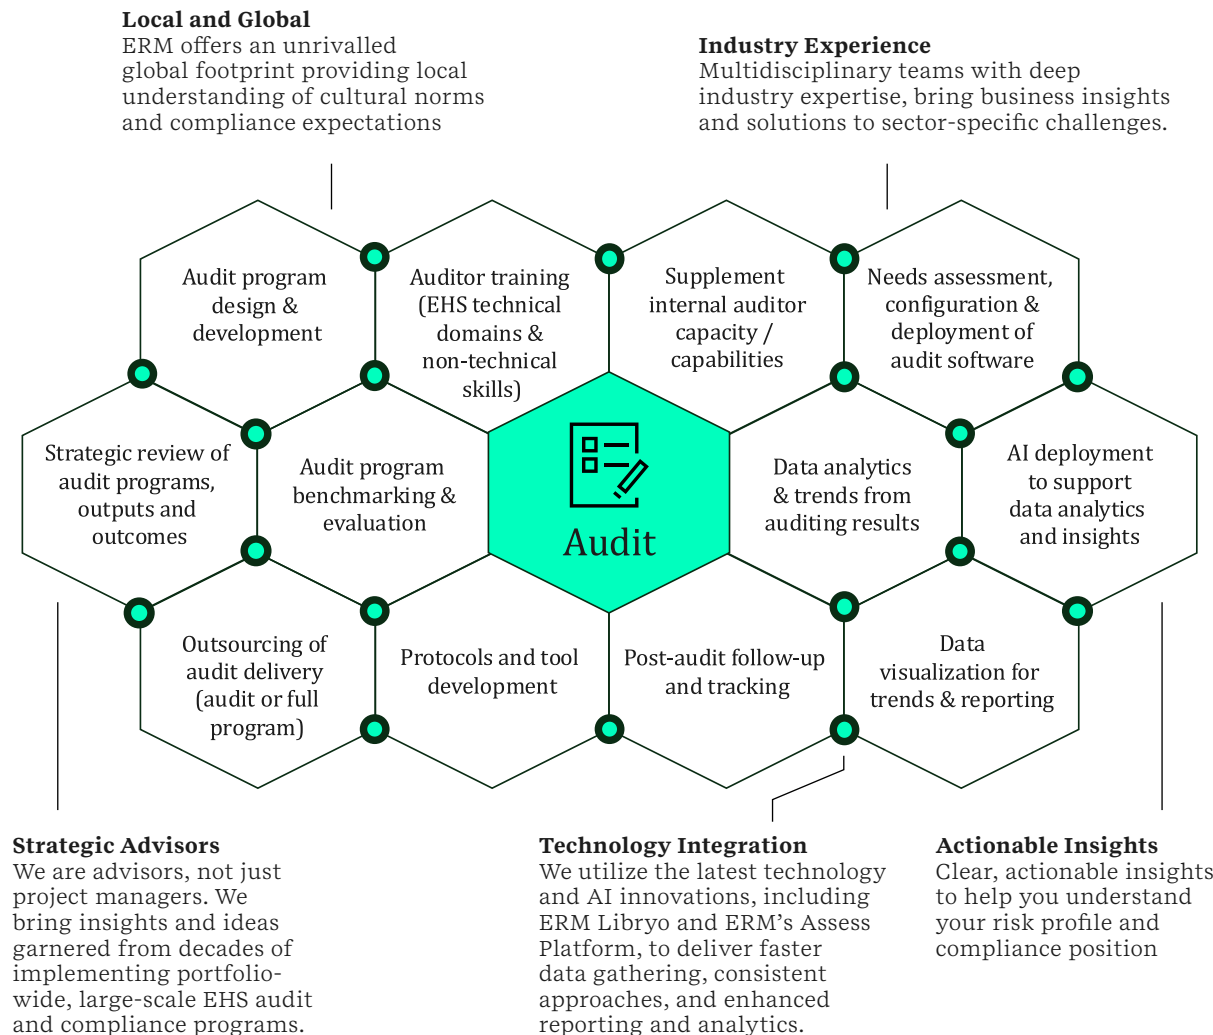

Technology integration

We utilize the latest technology and AI innovations to provide in-depth regulatory data and insight using ERM Libryo and capture audit data in our ERM Assess Platform. Both tools seamlessly integrate with enterprise-wide software solutions you may already have in place, and through these platforms we are able to deliver faster data gathering, consistency in audit approach and enhanced reporting and analytics.

End-to-end audit program support

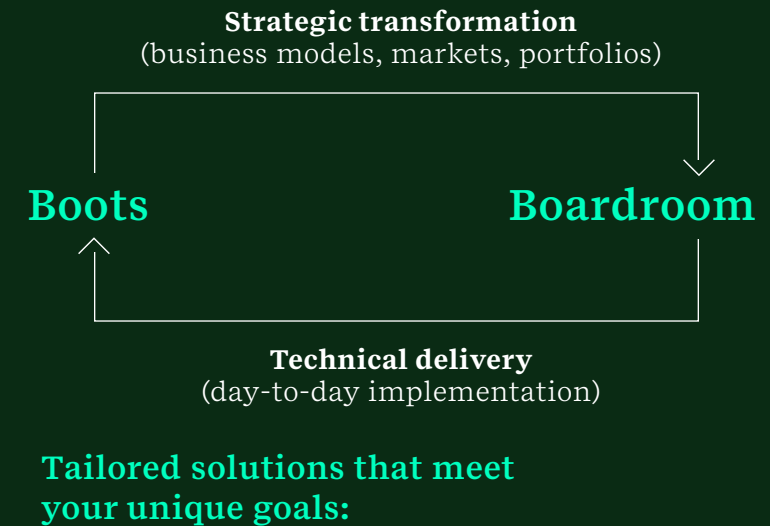

ERM audits focus on field observation and engagement, allowing for deeper understanding of the prevailing culture and leadership aspects that shape performance and are often underlying factors behind non-compliance, sub-optimal risk control or performance challenges. We bring fresh eyes, sharper focus, and tools that revitalize your approach and add value to your audit programs.
